Chinese Nationalists in 1936.[4] 25X1
Three hundred convicts serving one- to three-year sentences and two hundred convicts serving four-to five-year terms comprised the labor force. The convicts and the construction program were under the supervision of Chinese Communist Party officials of the Paoan Public Security Bureau. The Paoan District Government paid each worker JMP 10,000 for his daily necessities.

1. Comment. According to available information 25X1
there were two base hospitals five miles outside Chian which had "many" soldiers wounded in Korea.

2. Comment. the 6 Anti-aircraft Defense Post was at Huiyang, and four antiaircraft guns were emplaced at Yangling (N 23-07, E 114-21), and in the immediate vicinity of Huiyang

3. Comment. Presumably these are convicts who were paroled either routinely or for this specific work since they are said to receive payment for their work.
